GOVERNOR DENEEN SAID TO HAVE INTERCEDED

HIS AGED MOTHER DIES

YIELDS TO HEART FAILURE CAUSED BY GRIEF

NEWS COMES TO PRISONER

Weeps When Told of Death—She Sent Him Her Last $2 in Recent Letter

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—It is believed here that Billik will not hang. It is learned that Governor Deneen on a long distance telephone said he would commute the sentence to life imprisonment, and that today Judge Landis granted a reprieve. It is now believed the sentence will be made impris-ment.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—Mrs.
Barbara Billik, mother of Herman Billik, condemned to death December 11 for the murder of seven members of the Vrzal family, died this morning. Since his conviction she has failed rapidly. A pathetic letter from her son received Wednesday is said to have been the cause of an attack of heart failure which resulted in death.

A year ago Mrs. Billik arranged with a local undertaker to bury herself and son.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Herman Billik almost collapsed in his cell today when told of the death of his mother in Cleveland this morning.
He cried when the news came, but after a time controlling himself, he said he knew his mother could not stand the shock and he had feared such news since the receipt of letters from her telling of her great sorrow.

Would Die With Son
"I got a letter from mother yesterday," said Billik. "I knew she was dying when she wrote it." The letter said: "Dear Son Herman: Why don't you write me in so long a time.
I am half dead. I pray night and day that God may let me live until I know the outcome of the troubles of only child. I can't believe they'll hang you, or there is no justice in the world. I know you are innocent.
You never committed a crime like that. When they hang you, they will kill me. I'll go with you. So, dear son, don't take it hard. Maybe God will help you yet. How glad I would be to see you if I could. The doctors are doing all they can to get me on my feet. I send you $2. all I have to spare. Is Edna better? You don't write about her. I will try to come to you yet. I send you a dozen kisses.

"Your broken hearted mother." After reading the letter Billik put his hands on the shoulder of Jailer Davis, who supported him back to his cell.

LAMPHERE CALLED GUILTY OF ARSON

LA PORTE, Ind., Nov. 27.—Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to the Gun-ness house, on April 28, was found guilty of arson by the jury. Within five minutes after the verdict was reported, Judge Richter had sentenced the defendant to the state penitentiary at Michigan City for an indeterminate term of from two to twenty years. He was taken to Michigan City today to begin his sentence. The verdict:

"We, the jury find the defendant guilty of arson and that he is 38 years old.

"HENRY MILLER, Foreman." Lamphere's sentence includes a fine of $5,000. The defense apparently has decided not to make a motion for a new trial. When the minimum of the indeterminate sentence is served the prisoner may ask for a parole, and it is believed the defense has decided to allow the sentence to stand, hoping to free Lam-phere in two years.

700 MAIL SACKS LOST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—With the exception of four lives lost in the sinking of the Panama steamship "Financé," yesterday, probably the most serious loss sustained outside the ship itself, was in the mails. It is said there were seven hundred bags of mail on board the Financé when she sank. It is uncertain whether any will be saved. The cargo, belonging to the canal commission, had an estimated value of $12,000, and now lies sunken in the hold of the Financé.

"IT IS BETTER TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE"—ROCKEFELLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—In an article to be published in the December number of "The World's work," John D. Rockefeller says it is better to give than to receive. The novelty of being able to purchase everything one desires soon passes, he says, and what people most seek is unbuyable.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.— "Our sources of information are by no means limited to witnesses who appear before the committee," was the statement today of Congressman Boutelle, one of the leading members of the ways and means committee, in answer to the criticism of President Van Cleve of the national association of manufacturers that the present investigation is not broad or deep enough to form a basis for the new tariff bill. The fact is that agents of the government are gathering statistics in this country and abroad for use by the committee. All persons having useful information may appear before the committee.

MURDER OF FAURE TO BE REVEALED IN WOMAN'S STORY

STEINHEIL MYSTERY INVOLVES DEATH OF FRANCE'S PRESIDENT

ARTIST'S WIDOW IS ACCUSED

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH THE STRANGLING OF HUSBAND

PARIS WILD WITH GOSSIP

Eminent Statesmen and High Officials Tremble Lest Some Secrets Be Given to the World

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Paris, with Mme. Steinheil's confession yesterday in connection with the murder of her husband and Mme. Japy, is in the maelstrom of a national political and social scandal more exciting to the volatile populace than the Humbert, Dreyfus, and Syveton affairs combined.

The mysterious death of a president of the republic, the late Felix Faure, Parisians believe, is about to be solved, and certain eminent statesmen and high government officials tremble lest the new day reveal them stripped of the last shred of respectability, prey for the tongues of France. The Faure Murder is charged to a pro-Dreyfus cabal.

Magistrate Her Friend Late this afternoon Minister of Justice Briand withdrew the proceedings from Magistrate Boucard, and detailed Examining Magistrate Andre to conduct the further investigations. The case was taken from Magistrate Lydette this morning and given to Boucard on the ground that the former was closely affiliated with Mme. Steinheil.

She is confined alone in a cell, moaning and apparently overcome by nervous strain. She refuses absolutely to discuss the tragedy and maintains the same silence as yesterday, when she was first accused of poisoning President Faure, but the statement that he died in her apartments and was later secretly removed to the palace, which has been printed, remains undenied.

Stirs Up Old Dreyfus Feud
The allegation that she poisoned him as a result of his failure to take up the Dreyfus case sooner has caused great public commotion, and threatens to bring back all the bitterness of the Dreyfus days.

Justice Briand declares that this phase of the case must be probed thoroughly, and he is preparing to have a searching inquisition held.

Mme. Steinheil was taken before Magistrate Boucard, but was suffering so much from nervousness that it was impossible to question her and she was sent back to her cell. There she cries continually for her sister Marthe, who is not allowed to see her.

Seek Her Accomplices
M. Hamard, chief of the detective bureau, declared he had no doubt that she is guilty of murder, but said the manner in which her victim died indicated she had accomplices, whom the detectives are now seeking. He refused to say who he suspected. Alexander Wolff, accused by Mme. Steinheil, was taken before Boucard, but what developed at the hearing was kept secret.

President Faure died suddenly in the house of M. and Mme. Steinheil, Feb. 16, 1899, and no arrests ever were made. Late Sunday night, May 20, 1903, Adolphe Steinheil, a rich and famous painter, and his highly respected and esteemed mother-in-law, Mme. Japy, were strangled to death. The artist's beautiful and accomplished wife in the next room escaped unharmed.

At least one newspaper in Paris last night openly accuses Mme.
Steinheil with administering poison to President Faure.

Keeps Poie at Bay.
Yesterday Mme. Steinheil confessed that her attempt to find the assassin and the innumerable fantastic clues furnished the police and the newspapers were only a desperate farce to conceal the real author of the crime, whom she knew, and things that journalists knew and dared not tell about the death of Faure are being shouted into the air by angry crowds.

Political opponents of the government, like Henri Rochefort, are leading the movement to force an ex-posure of the scandal connected with the mysterious death of Felix Faure.
Although hushed up at the time, it was common knowledge of those behind the scenes that Mme. Steinheil was with M. Faure when he died.
Some of the Parisian afternoon papers do not hesitate to print what they term the story of the liaison.

Meets Ruler in Alps
According to these stories M.
Faure had met Mme. Steinheil in the Swiss Alps during the maneuvers the year previous to his death, and she was greatly enamored of him.

TWO IN THE PUBLIC EYE

John D. Archbold at Right, Attorney Frank Kellogg at Left.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The two most prominent factors in the Oil trial since John D. Rockefeller has left the witness stand are John Dustin Archbold and Attorney Frank Kellogg. Mr. Kellogg has won the applause of the world by his clever cross-questioning of the Standard's president and he will keep up this same fire at the man who is actually at the head of affairs.

John D. Archbold is, not even excepting Rockefeller, the master mind in the conduct of the great corporation of which he is vice president.
Born in Leesburg, Ohio, in 1848,

Archbold, at 16, went to the oil fields of Pennsylvania and learned the business. Eventually he became president of the Acme Oil company, and when the first combine was formed in 1882 he became one of the nine trustees. It was he who carried on the correspondence with Senator Foraker which created a sensation in the recent campaign.

WAR IN THE BALKANS SAID TO BE NEAR AND INEVITABLE

LONDON, Nov. 27.—It is generally agreed in well informed diplomatic circles today that war in the Balkans is very near, and hardly to be averted. This belief is joined in by all newspapers in London, including the Daily Telegraph, which is unusually well informed covering Balkan matters. According to the best authorities the negotiation between Russia and Austria have progressed to such a point that their failure is a certainty.

"THE PATRIOT" IS TO BE NAME OF SENATOR LA FOLLETTE'S NEW POLITICAL MAGAZINE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Senator La Follette has engaged a residence in Washington for the winter and will take his family there with him. He leaves one week from today.

The senator is busily engaged just now arranging for the publication of his paper, for which the name "Patriot" has virtually been decided upon. The paper will contain 16 pages, the size of "The Nation" to start with, and will be enlarged later. A big subscription has already been received, solicitors being given 20 per cent.

The senator has engaged several noted magazine contributors for his staff, according to an announcement made today. Senator La Follette will return to Madison during the holidays to supervise the publication of the first issue of "The Patriot."

STATE INSPECTION OF CIRCULATION IS MILWAUKEE DEMAND

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov.
27.—"Resolved, that the advertising committee propose to the state legislature a bill to provide that all advertising mediums accepting advertising in Wisconsin be subjected to a state inspection as to circulation."

This proposed legislation, as framed by the Advertisers' committee of the Merchants & Manufacturers association of this city, will be considered at a meeting on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 3. At a meeting of the committee this afternoon, hair-man W. S. Pearce issued a call for the meeting. A thorough discussion will be held, and the measure presented to the legislature for passage. Other legislation with reference to advertising may be asked by the committee later.

EXTRADITION IS CAUSE OF A ROW

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Attorney Rigby, counsel for the Russian government in an attempt to get an extradition order for Rudovitz in the case pending before Commissioner Foote, today exhibited a letter warning him to leave Chicago within thirty days and drop the case on penalty of death. He believes the letter was written by the Russian Nihilist society. The letter was given to the postoffice inspectors who are endeavoring to trace it to the sender. He defense of Rudovitz claims the letter is the work of a crank and not of friends of their client. The political refugees' society has issued a circular calling a mass meeting Sunday to protest the proposed extradition.
The call violently denounces the czar of Russia.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS AFFAIR

Strict Censorship Withholds Infor-

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 27.
—Advices received in court circles today declare an attempt on the life of the dowager empress of Russia yesterday failed by the narrowest margin. It is stated an anarchist reached the side of the royal carriage and was pulling a revolver from his pocket when he was seized by a watchful policeman. The empress was so overcome by her narrow escape that she fainted and is still under the care of a physician.

Mystery in Crime
LONDON, Nov. 27.—It is believed here that there is a decided mystery in connection with the attempted assassination of the dowager empress of Russia yesterday while she was returning a visit of her family in Copenhagen. News of the attempted murder and the killing of a policeman by the criminal before he was overpowered, and the escape of his accomplices, got through before a censorship was clapped on, and since that all endeavors to secure further news as to the identity of the criminal has failed. It is hinted there are reasons behind the suppression of the details. None of the officials here who is in a position to know the facts will talk.

TERRIBLE TYPHOON RUSHING ON FLEET

MANILA, Nov. 27.—Typhoon warnings were put out by the preparations are being made which is expected to strike here squalls greeted the 1,200 men granted shore leave today from the Atlantic fleet.

Tonight Gov. General Smith

Following is an extract from a personal letter from Mr. John Nolen to a member to the La Crosse park commission, under date of Nov. 25:
"I find that the leaders here are suitably impressed with your progress and they well may be. They turn it off by saying, 'Oh, yes, that's La Crosse.' There is certainly an unusual opportunity to do something out of the ordinary. Let me thank you again, and through you, the others for a week of unbroken satisfaction. The weather was perfect, the investigation more than encouraging, and the public meeting inspiring. One of the very best I ever attended.
With appreciation of your personal courtesy, I am, etc., etc."

MARQUETTE LOSES NOTRE DAME 6 TO 0

COACH JUNEAU'S TEAM BEATEN IN LAST SIX MINUTES

PENNSYLVANIA RAPS CORNELL

Ithacans Score a Drop Kick Early in Game—Quakers Come Back With Three Touchdowns

The result of yesterday's football in the west can be told in one sentence—Notre Dame 6, Marquette 0. This was the one game in the west that attracted widespread interest. Other games were of local interest only.

Coach Juneau's fast Marquette team went down to defeat by the score of 6 to 0, the touchdown being the result of two beautiful forward passes which brought the ball from their own 45 yard line down to the Marquette 5 yard line. From there it was taken on line plunges over the goal line and a few minutes later Hamilton kicked an easy goal. With 6 minutes more to play Notre Dame succeeded in keeping the ball in the middle of the field until time was called.

In the east Pennsylvania's team buried Cornell by a score of 17 to 4, and her followers claim it to be the equal of Harvard, who are conceded champions. The Pennsylvania team did not overwhelm the boys from Ithaca, for they did not show the form they have in previous games this season. In the first few minutes of play the Cornell team gave them an awful jolt by kicking a goal from the 25 yard line, making her only score.

Then the Quaker giants settled down and in a few minutes Hollenbeck dashed 5 yards around end for a touchdown. Two more touchdowns, one by Miller, the little quarter who was substituted for Keinath, and one by Manier, followed. Miller proved the star of the day by sprinting 75 yards down the field through the Cornell team, only to be called back on account of holding in the line.

The run was the longest seen on Franklin field this season.

Yesterday's Scores in West. Ohio State, 19; Kenyon, 9. Vanderbilt, 6; Sewanee, 6. Colorado, 16; School of Mines, 0. Tulane, 11; Washington, 0. Alabama, 4; Tennessee, 0. De Paul, 45; Carroll, 5. TOMAH DEMANDS A GAME WITH SPARTA TOMAH, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Tomah high school defeated Merrill high yesterday 48 to 0. The game was called after ten minutes of play of the second half on account of darkness.

Tomah has defeated everything in sight this fall, except the La Crosse high, who beat them 11 to 5 with the Tomah's quarterback and right half, Tim and Steve Donovan, out of the game from broken collar bones. Tomah has issued several challenges to Sparta and other teams in line for the state championship without scheduling games.

Grand Rapids has beaten everything up the line, last Saturday defeating Merrill 11 to 0, while Tomah with their regular lineup scored 48. This may give Sparta an other teams some idea of the importance of the regular Tomah team in connection with the settling of the championship.

All former bargains eclipsed by tomorrow's great "Dollar Day" offerings at Doerflinger's.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY OSHKOSH

RIPON, Wis., Nov. 27.—On a slippery field and outwitted several pounds the doughty Oshkosh High school braves fought their way over Fort Atkinson to the state championship here today, 4 to 0.

The lone tally of the game came late in the first half when Arfstrom booted the oval squarely between the posts from the forty-five line. The game was fiercely contested from start to finish. Both teams were forced to punt repeatedly. Neither goal was in danger of being crossed at any time but several tries from the field were made by both teams and late in the second half Fort Atkinson all but tied the score when an attempt at a place kick failed only by inches. Although the game was necessarily slow, Oshkosh won on its merits, getting into the play quicker and often breaking up the play of its adversaries. Armstrong, Lamper and Monihan starred. Large delegations accompanied both teams, a special from Oshkosh bringing over 300 rooters.

REFEREE DRIVER WINS FOR SPARTA

BIG THANKSGIVING GAME IS PRACTICALLY STOLEN

LOCALS OUTPLAYED SPARTA

"Tub" Driver as Referee, However, Claimed Goal for Sparta When None Was Made

Before a crowd of 1,500 people the La Crosse high school football team went down to defeat before the Sparta aggregation yesterday afternoon at Sparta. La Crosse lost the game on a rank decision by Referee Driver who maintained that a field goal by Jefferson was legally made. Several prominent La Crosse citizens happened to be directly under the goal posts at the time of the kick and all were positively certain that the ball missed the goal posts by a foot. It was a hard game to lose, as La Crosse clearly outplayed Sparta in all parts of the game. A strong wind blew over the field from the west which made it impossible to kick toward that direction. This seriously handicapped both teams in the handling of forward passes and judging of punts. The strong wind also aided Jefferson, who practically defeated the La Crosse team alone, in the kicking of his field goals. His kicks would go high in the air and sail for several yards back over the goal posts, a distance of sixty yards or more.

The work of the La Crosse team was very gratifying to the local enthusiasts who all realize that their team is the rightful claimant to the laurels. Every man on the team played an excellent game and deserves to be congratulated by the home supporters. Sparta will not be as strong next fall as they were this season, as eight of the best players were graduated. The La Crosse team will now disband, but when they come together for another season it will be two defeats for Sparta in one season instead of for La Crosse.

The Game in Detail.

Sparta won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Holbrook kicked off to Jefferson on his own thirty yard line. Two line plunges by McDonald netted nothing. Jefferson attempted to punt but the kick was blocked. A Sparta man recovered the ball, making it first down. On two end runs Sparta was held without a gain. Jefferson again punted the ball going out of bounds. On a cross buck Dickens took three yards. Sparta was penalized five yards for off side play. Tourtellotte hit center for seven yards. Tiedeman made three more around Hatch. On a forward pass Sparta secured the ball. Jefferson circled right end for ten yards. Abrahamson took three over Techmer. McDonald failed to gain over Brindley. "Man Is As Old As His Stomach"

This Persian Epigram Is the Real Gauge of A Man's Life.

The Persians were a very sagacious people, noted among other things, for their deep thinking on life and the things which make up life.

The above epigram shows the wisdom of their thought.

When a man's stomach is able to furnish new material to the system as fast or faster than the natural decay of man requires, then such a man lives his fullest and his best.

When through wrong living or disease a man's stomach begins to tax the other organs and takes from the blood strength which it cannot give back in nourishment taken from food, then begins the death of man and he decays fast. The stomach is strong, splendidly strong, and can stand an untold amount of abuse and neglect, but when it dies, man dies.

The stomach gives tons upon tons of good rich blood every year to the system and draws only 680 lbs. of nourishment for its own use. If, however, the food which it receives cannot be turned into blood which is capable of use by the body, then the stomach receives no help from the other organs.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the most perfect digestive qualities known to science and at the same time the most powerful. They will mix with the poisonous juices of a sick stomach and digest food in spite of this handicap.

They will stop gas making and bad breath. They tone up the nerves of the whole digestive canal, including those of the stomach.

tempted a drop kick from La Crosse's thirty yard line, but the kick was blocked. McDonald netted two yards over Jungbluth. Eight more yards were made by Jackson at the same place. McDonald lost a yard through center. Jackson lost two more around right end. Sparta fumbled a forward pass but immediately recovered. Sparta again fumbled, La Crosse securing the ball. La Crosse failed to gain but four yards on two end runs by Dickens. Holbrook punted to Jefferson. Jackson took ten on a delayed pass. McDonald failed twice over Jungbluth. Jefferson dropped back for a drop kick this time, the ball going squarely between the goal posts. Score, La Crosse 0, Sparta 4.

Sparta Kicks Off.

Sparta kicked off to Tiedeman, who returned ten yards before being downed. Roddy made fifteen yards on a forward pass from Dickens. After Tiedeman had failed to gain Roddy secured another forward pass from Dickens for a gain of twenty yards. Tourtellotte made three over center. Dickens two more at the same place. It was now La Crosse's ball on Sparta three yard line. Tourtellotte however failed to go over, the ball being less than a foot from the goal line. Sparta punted to Dickens. Roddy made twenty yards on a forward pass. Tiedeman failed to gain on a straight buck, but Tourtellotte was pushed over for a touchdown. On the kick out La Crosse lost its opportunity for a trial at goal. Score, La Crosse 5, Sparta 4.

La Crosse kicked off to McDonald. After two plays had failed to gain Sparta punted to Shaw. La Crosse failed to gain and Holbrook again punted. Jefferson failed on an end run. Abrahamson failed also at the same place. Jefferson again made a drop kick from the thirty yard line, reversing the score to Sparta's favor. Score, La Crosse 5, Sparta 8.

Sparta kicked off to Shaw who returned ten yards. La Crosse fumbled, a La Crosse man falling on the ball. La Crosse again fumbled, Sparta securing the ball. Sparta failed to gain on a forward pass. Sparta attempted another forward pass, Tourtellotte however securing the ball. Sparta recovered the ball after an onside kick by Shaw. After Sparta had made seven yards time was called for the first half.

Second Half.

The second half opened with Sparta kicking off to La Crosse. Jungbluth received the ball but failed to advance it. Dickens made it La Crosse's first down on a delayed pass and an end run. W. Tourtellotte smashed center for six yards. Tiedeman failed to gain over Hatch. Holbrook punted. N. Tourtellotte fell on the ball. Time out for Jackson. Tourtellotte failed to gain on two trials at center. Tiedeman also failed to gain around right end. Sparta secured the ball on downs. Sparta was forced to punt after two downs had netted them nothing. Dickens was tackled by Hatch for an eight yard loss. Dickens made six yards on a delayed pass. He made it first down on an end run. Tourtellotte was pushed through center for five yards. Tiedeman failed to gain on a criss cross. Holbrook punted. N. Tourtellotte falling on the ball. Dickens made four over right tackle. Shaw made two yards on an end run. Tourtellotte failed to make it first down. Jackson failed to gain over Jungbluth. Abrahamson failed to advance the ball around Capt. Tourtellotte's end. Sparta punted to Shaw. La Crosse returned the kick and secured the ball. Sparta failed to gain on two downs and again resorted to kicking. A Sparta man fell on the ball. McDonald made thirty yards through center on seven successive trials. Jefferson attempted to kick a goal but failed. Roddy kicked out from the twenty yard line to Sparta's left end. Jackson failed to gain on two end runs. Jefferson punted and Hatch fell on the ball. McDonald failed to gain through center on two smashes. Jefferson made an onside kick. Shaw securing the ball. Dickens made four yards around left end. Roddy punted to Jackson. Sparta failed to gain and kicked. Shaw fumbled the ball but recovered. Roddy made a sixty yard punt the ball going back of Sparta's goal line. Sparta kicked out from the twenty yard line. Shaw fumbled but fell on the ball. Sparta secured the ball after an onside kick by Dickens. Sparta failed to gain on two plunges. They then punted to Dickens. Roddy punted over Jefferson's head and evidently Jefferson thought the ball would roll out of bounds. W. Tourtellotte secured the ball however before it had rolled out and carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Score, La Crosse 10, Sparta, 8.

Sparta kicked off to La Crosse but the ball was carried behind the goal posts by the strong wind which was blowing. Roddy kicked out from the twenty yard line. McDonald and Abrahamson failed to gain over Techmer. Jefferson attempted another goal from the field, but Brindley broke through and blocked the kick. La Crosse secured the ball. Tourtellotte made seven yards through right guard. Dickens failed to gain. Roddy punted to Jefferson, who was downed in his tracks. An attempted field goal by Jefferson placed the ball behind La Crosse's goal. Roddy punted out from the twenty yard line to Jackson. Jefferson sent the ball over the goal line, Driver claiming it was between the goal posts, and giving Sparta the four points that sent La Crosse down to defeat. Score, La Crosse 10, Sparta 12.

After Shaw had received the kick time was called.

Resentment Strong.

Resentment is at fever heat in La Crosse and some have been heard to say Driver was "fixed" by the Spartans. There is also talk of breaking relations with Sparta. Everyone in La Crosse, however, who saw the game is satisfied that the La Crosse players in reality won, even if the

300,000 Housewives Know

I figure that 300,000 women prefer my soap to all others—women who know merely good soap. They use mine because it makes the clothes cleaner and whiter than yellow soap—because it goes twice as far. Then it saves boiling—and rubbing, except where the clothes are very much soiled.

Cocaoat oil—that's one reason.

Cocaoat oil is immensely effective—but it's expensive. It's not put in merely good soap.

Most makers figure that housewives don't know.

CIRCULATION PUBLICITY LAW

The Milwaukee Merchants & Manufacturers' association has drafted a law, which it proposes to have presented to the next session of the Wisconsin legislature, in which it is provided that newspapers in this state must submit to an annual state inspection as to circulation, and that the net average circulation for the last preceding year shall become a matter of state record.

This is a good measure, and it should become a law. There is but one thing lacking in it—a clause making it a penal offense to swear falsely as to circulation.

Every advertiser is as much entitled to know the actual circulation he is buying when he places an advertisement in a newspaper as is the housewife to know that she gets sixteen ounces when she buys a pound of cheese. We regret to say that there are a lot of newspapers that keep their circulations a secret from their patrons, and a still worse class that make false statements about circulation, and even swear to them.

This is a fraud on the advertisers and an injustice to the newspaper that frankly makes known its circulation. The paper that has 10,000 circulation and claims 10,000, circulation is up against the rival paper that has 3,000 circulation and claims 10,000. The honest paper can secure the verification of its own circulation, and convince the advertiser of its correctness, but it cannot force its competitor to submit to an examination, and as the dishonesty of that rival is only inferentially established by its refusal to submit to investigation, the newspaper that misrepresents and magnifies its circulation is on even footing with the one that does not, to the full extent of its ability to deceive.

The Tribune believes that every merchants' association in Wisconsin, every advertiser, every person or organization having an interest in the circulations and relative force and influence of newspapers, should join in pressing upon the legislature the importance of the passage of this worthy bill. It can harm no honest newspaper, it would afford justice to all honest journals and to every advertiser in Wisconsin.

MONEY IN POLITICS

The Milwaukee Journal, which is pounding hard for an investigation of Senator Stephenson's primary election methods, has the following discussion of the relative standings of men who are using money loosely in politics, and those who are for reformation along that line:

"Senator La Follette strongly favors an investigation of the recent primary election at which the attempt was made to decide who shall be his colleague in the senate. He has openly exerted his influence in favor of holding an investigation.

"Does he fall short of being a good republican simply because he advocates the investigation and the cure of abuses? In fact, would he not be shirking his duty were he to fall to do his utmost to keep his party worthy of public confidence?
Are Congressmen Cooper, Nelson and the little band of civic heroes who in congress fought Cannonism, with all the evils and corruption that it means, bad Republicans or good Republicans.

"Is Roosevelt, who has been trying to make his party what it was in the days of Lincoln, the party of the common people, a bad Republican.
And how about Taft? If he shall make an earnest effort to make his party in congress serve the interest of the people, and in the effort it shall become necessary, as it surely will, for him to fight Cannon and Aldrich and the rest of the gang that works day and night for Special Privileges, then will Taft become a bad Republican?

"Who, in other words, are the better Republicans, those who are destroying the party by allying it to the Money Power, or those who are trying to purify and save it?

"Is loyalty to the people treason to the party?

"Be sure of this: A large number of the Republican members will oppose any plan to investigate the primary. They will do everything in their power to elect Stephenson regardless of the charges that are made in connection with the primary. The public be it said! Watch your representatives. If they fail you, you can make them feel the force of your indignation."

If you buy your Christmas presents now, you can select what you please; if you wait until the rush is on, you must take what you can get.

London papers this morning announce that trouble in the Balkans is inevitable. It has already come, and Turkey has been annihilated.

Mr. Rockefeller complains that the oil business is hazardous. As pursued by John D. Rockefeller, it is an official scolding.

And now the good housewife can contemplate a dustless home, for she has at least two turkey wings.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

(Milwaukee Free Press.)

The purpose of the school board to place certain restrictions on the athletic activity of the high schools is as praiseworthy as its recent action with regard to fraternities.

There is an unfortunate tendency in our modern high school life to ape the customs, institutions and activities of colleges and universities; the ambition of students seems to be to make of the high school, as completely as it may be done, a miniature university in all its non-scholastic manifestations.

This tendency is as silly as it is undesirable. What may be helpful relaxation, diversity or intercourse to the mature students becomes a positive distraction, detriment and nuisance to the youngster of the high school.

Entirely apart from the consideration that the undeveloped bodies of boys should not be subjected to the rigor of highly concentrated athletic activity, the immature mind is not capable of bearing the strain of long-protracted scholastic employment without "slipping over"—to employ an expressive phrase from our street jargon. Instead of remaining a side issue of great interest, this rivalry, with its attendant demonstrations, becomes the main consideration of school life, and thought and study take on the hue of necessary evils.

Perhaps the most unpleasant evidence of this aping of what these half-baked youths consider to be the proper "college" way of doing things is found in the celebration of victories that are frequently indulged in on the downtown streets.

All too often these have degenerated into mere exhibitions of hood-lumism, such as one might expect from the fresh young sports of the "bad lands," but not from the sons of respectable parents. No college worthy of the name tolerates such exhibitions. They occur, no doubt, but the offenders are promptly brought to book.

The board has barred all celebrations from the school premises. If that would really serve as a quietus to this foolish desire to create something like "college spirit," well and good; but we fear it will merely transfer these gatherings to the streets, and even more undesirable localities, and to remove such restraint as the confines of the school may impose.

This point will bear consideration.

A True Story

The old lady who was in the habit of looking under the bed for burglars every night after many years actually found one, armed to the teeth with dark lantern, Jimmy and all the burglar's stock in trade. The old lady, after a careful scrutiny of the armed villain addressed him with a bright, rather pleased voice, as follows:

"Oh, there you are, are you? Why, I have been looking for you for years!"

The desperate man made no response; astonishment disarmed him more effectually than any weapon could have done. He crawled from under the bed, slunk out of the room, down the stairs, and out of the house and the old lady, quite happy, got into her bed and went to sleep.—

A little girl in Rhode Island, the daughter of a clergyman, once sat at the table with a bishop who was visiting her father.

When they had finished she observed that he did not fold his napkin. Distressed, she said:

"We always fold our napkins here."

"Yes, my dear," said the bishop.

"But that is because you use them again. In the case of a visitor, you don't do that."

"Oh, yes, we do," said the little girl.—Life.

Tommy's Thanksgiving.

I'm thankful for a lot of things;

I'm thankful I'm alive;

I'm thankful that I'm six years old, Instead of only five.

I'm thankful for my tops and toys,
And for my Kitty Gray;

I'm thankful for the big outdoors Where I can run and play.

I'm thankful for the things that grow

The apples, aren't they good?

The corn where we played hide-and-seek

As in a little wood.

I'm thankful for the pumpkins round Just like a golden ball.

And Jack-o'-lanterns, big and queer, They don't scare me at all.

I'm thankful for Thanksgiving day For pies all in a row;

I'm thankful grandma made them sweet,

She knows I like them so.

I'm thankful for the turkey, too, How brown it is and nice!

And I'd be very thankful, please, For only one more slice!

Anatomy for Beginners.

The brain is the headquarters of the nervous system and contains the central office of the Anatomical Telephone company.

When the suburban nerve-center says, "Hello, Central," the brain either replies, "What number?" or "Busy," or "Out of order," as the case may be. Sometimes the wires are crossed and the company fails to declare any dividends, thus placing the entire brain in the hands of a receiver.

For the brain issues the spine, which is sometimes useful in matrimony, although rarely strong enough in man for practical purposes, and constantly growing weaker the longer he is married.

On top of the head the hair grows, or is supposed to. In some cases, however, it fails to grow despite the most painstaking efforts.

In ladies there are two kinds of hair, viz., imported and domestic; in gentlemen also two kinds, namely, permanent and transient. The permanent is seen in wild men; the transient in civilized men, when young.

At one time all the hairs were carefully numbered, but the practice has been discontinued owing to great pressure of other matters.—

Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill.

The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets cure stomach troubles by supplying the

DEATH AS GROUND OF ABATE-

States, 161 Federal Reporter, 722, the United States circuit court of appeals decided that the fine of one found guilty of contempt who sued out of a writ of error to reverse the judgment, but died before the submission of the case to the higher court, should be considered as a charge against the estate, and that the action did not abate by death.

Didn't Use His Own Goods

William J. Bryan, on his visit to New York, declined to answer one of the questions put to him.

"I shouldn't know my business if I answered such a question as that," said Mr. Bryan, smiling. "Every one must know his business, otherwise failure follows; and I'm sure you wouldn't want me to fail like the young salesman of fountain pens."

"There was, you know, a young fountain pen salesman who, to his great joy, succeeded on his first trip in persuading a stationer to order 5, 000 pens. But all of a sudden the stationer's manner changed to the young man.

"I countermand that order," he barked, and hurried into his private office, slamming the door behind him.

"Later in the day his bookkeeper said to this stationer: 'May I ask, sir, why you so suddenly countermanded your order for those fountain pens?'"

"The young salesman," the other answered, "booked my order with a lead pencil."—New York Tribune.

SPOTLIGHTS

The Thief Next Week.

"The Thief," the sensational work which Charles Frohman is to produce at the La Crosse theatre next Thursday evening, Dec. 3rd, is called a genuine play—not a sermon nor a treatise. Uneasy souls in quest of "lessons" are promised the "lesson" from it that "honesty is the best policy" and likewise that jealousy is the most terrible of the passions.

Virginian Tonight.

Those who have not read Owen Wister's uncommonly successful novel, "The Virginian," will perhaps hardly appreciate the eagerness with which those who have read the book are looking forward to the presentation of its dramatization at the La Crosse theatre tonight. It is doubtful if any hero of fiction since the era of big "selling" novels has ever taken so firm a grip on the hearts of both men and women readers as has this young knight of the cattle country. In him Mr. Wister has shown us a specimen of sturdy, American manhood that has proven irresistibly alluring to readers and that cannot but be even more effective in a stage representation. W. S. Hart will be seen as the Virginian and Frank Campeau as Tampus.

"Miss Petticoats."

The heroine of this famous play caught the attention of the play-going public immediately on its production at the great Boston theatre, and made a pronounced hit because of her very original and charming personality. When first dramatized from the book and produced at the Boston theatre about five years ago, it scored an immense success, and the critics were unanimous in pronouncing it "a strong emotional play, full of wholesome comedy and a quaint wit, that appeals to an old theater-goer." Therein was the secret of the success of "Miss Petticoats." It pleased the old habitue of the theater, who is looking for a new sensational, and found in this original play that pungent, spicy atmosphere which is like the real New England people themselves, where the play was laid.

A powerful company, who carry their own new and artistic scenery descriptive of these fascinating scenes, will present "Miss Petticoats" at the La Crosse theatre on Sunday, Nov. 29, matinee and night.

At the Bijou.

There promises to be a good bill of extras for tonight's amateur program at the Bijou. Many applicants have requested try-outs and the only trouble will be that of selecting the most desirable material. It was hoped that Madame Violet would appear tonight but there is some uncertainty in this respect, the diva's time being much taken up with other engagements. Whatever acts the amateur bill may contain is sure to give due satisfaction.

LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Lawrence university at Appleton, Wis., will henceforth be known as Lawrence college, if the board of trustees act favorably upon a petition presented by the Alumni association.
We chronicle this isolated phenomenon in the history of American higher education, because it is astonishing in itself, but, more than that, because it is not the act of some eccentric donor who has hit upon this peculiar condition for lending spice to his charity. In cool blood, or at least in a state of such coolness as is conceivable at an alumni banquet, Lawrence university's graduates have decided that Alma Mater should no longer sail under false colors, he institution has a student attendance of nearly 600, and a faculty of thirty-three, which, as western universities go, is doing very well.
Yet the graduates must have felt that a college of liberal arts, even when supplemented by "schools of expression, commerce, music and correspondence," does not quite reach the university ideal. Probably, too—though on this point we have no definite information—Lawrence may have felt that it could not really

CROUP

THERE IS NOTHING that strikes terror to the hearts of parents more than to be awakened in the night by the ringing cough which accompanies an attack of croup. The child may retire with nothing but a slight cold and a few hours later the family be aroused by the ominous symptoms. Every home where there are small children should be prepared for these sudden attacks, as prompt treatment is necessary. Do not experiment with remedies of doubtful value, but get that has been in use for nearly forty years and never known to fail.

Mr. Homer Krohn, of Lisbon, Iowa, in a letter to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy praises this medicine for what it has done for his children. He says: "It has not only saved them once but many a time. Only two weeks ago my boy had the croup so bad in the night that had it not been for having a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house he would have choked before a doctor could have gotten to the house. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.

"We guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says W. M. Parish, Palmerston, Ontario. "Out of the many bottles sold last winter not one was returned. We recommend it especially for children with croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its prompt cures of coughs, colds and croup. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse an attack of croup may be averted. This medicine is entirely free from narcotics or injurious substances of any kind and may be given to the little ones with absolute safety.

Attacks of croup are most likely to occur during the early winter months, and every family with young children should be prepared for it. Keep a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY in your home. It only costs a quarter, large size 50 cents. Your druggist sells it.

WOULD BUY TWO AMERICAN CARDINALS

ROME, Nov. 27.—It is reported in well informed vatican circles that a group of New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco millionaires, through Mr. Kennedy, head of the American college, have offered to make a contribution of one million dollars in Peters Pence if two American cardinals shall be created at the coming consistory. Cardinal Merry del Val, who received the offer, stated he had communicated it to the pope, who simply answered that he had noticed what the Americans said. It is not believed the pope will accept the offer.

APPEALS TO END CABRERA'S CRIMES

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 27.—An urgent appeal to the civilized world for a suppression of the atrocities of President Cabrera, of Guatemala, was issued by Dr. Fornos Diaz, ex-secretary of Honduras. The letter is the outgrowth of the alleged poisoning of John Binellia, an Italian subject, in a Guatemalan dungeon. Binellia was a rival suitor for the hand of one of the wealthiest widows of Guatemala. In support of his appeal Diaz publishes a long list of crimes charged directly to the president of Guatemala.

Taft's Fight MAY BE WITH SENATE

PROGRESSIVE RECRUITS THERE GIVE HIM STRENGTH

EASIER THAN CANNON WAR

Battle for Party Pledges May Be Fought Out by La Follette Senatorial Ostracism

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27. (By J. C. Welliver.)

Much attention is being given just now to the threatened break between President-elect Taft and Speaker Cannon and his allies in the house. That such a break is likely, while scouted here at first, is now coming to be quite generally conceded, although it may be averted by a course on the part of the speaker in consonance with the spirit of the Chicago platform. But comparatively little attention has been given to the break that is quite as likely to come between Mr. Taft and the conservatives of the senate or, in other words, between Mr. Taft and Mr. Aldrich and such senators as are at his command in any contest of great importance.

It can be set down as almost a certainty that if Mr. Taft comes into collision with the speaker over the revision of the tariff and other great questions that will arise in the carrying out of the pledges of the Chicago platform, he will have a row with the senate leaders also. In the first place, Mr. Taft is well known to have certain broad and moderate views on the tariff question. He is a protectionist but in no sense a standpatter. He believes many of the present schedules can be lowered and lowered materially without crippling the prosperity of the country. He views the tariff in the light of what benefits it can bestow on the whole people rather than on particular individuals. His tariff opinions are not those of many of the conservative members of the senate any more than they are the views of the ultra high tariff men of the house, and it is impossible now to foresee how, if he insists on real tariff revision, he can escape conflict at both ends of the capitol.

Senate Victory Easier.

A fight between Mr. Taft as president and the old regime in the senate would be highly interesting and entertaining and on the whole Mr. Taft's chances of victory in the senate fight would be better than in a collision with "Uncle Joe." It will be recalled that the greater part of what is officious in the tariff law was put into it in the senate. In their contest with Pres. Roosevelt the conservative senators who were opposed to government rate regulation were unable to stand up against the force of public opinion as it was marshaled by the president to support his contention. It is quite likely Mr. Taft would be fully as fortunate in this respect as Mr. Roosevelt.

New Forces at Hand.

The time has not yet come when Mr. Aldrich can be deposed as the leader on the republican side of the senate but it is true that his strength is perceptibly growing weaker. The influx of new senators is detracting materially from his power. When Mr. Taft as president sets out to secure legislation that will carry forward the policies of this administration which were endorsed at Chicago, and when he stands for genuine revision of the tariff, he will find a powerful body of new senators ready to give him strong support along lines followed by Senator Robert M. La Follette in last session. Such men as Borah of Idaho, Cummins of Iowa, Brewster of Kansas, Bourne of Oregon, Brown of Nebraska, Beveridge of Indiana, Crawford of South Dakota, Burkett of Nebraska, Jones of Washington, and several others that might be mentioned may be expected to fight the battles of the administration with vigor and ability and with a growing consciousness of the weakening of the Aldrich element. The acquisition of a new and progressive senator from New York, as Elihu Root for instance, a man friendly to the administration, would be a powerful acquisition on the White House side. So, too, would be the election of a senator friendly to Mr. Taft from Ohio. In any contest of this sort

JERSEY RIOT ENDS IN SHOOTING FRAY

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Nov. 27.—Troops are still guarding the works of the National Fire Proofing company today anticipating another attack by strikers. The situation is extremely tense, and should the drink-crazed bands of Poles and Hungarians muster up enough courage to make a new assault, there will be more bloodshed. The attack at midnight last night came without warning. One hundred strikers rushed the picket line of militiamen outside the stockade about the standard plant. The pickets fired on the mob and the strikers withdrew, bearing a number of wounded with them.

Taft Well Fortified.

In a word, it is not at all improbable that if there is an attempt on the part of the old, powerful, controlling elements of conservatism on the republican side in congress to block the things that Mr. Taft believes in and that the platform stands for, there will be a smashing of the present lines of senate organization. The tariff struggle, which will be fought out chiefly in the senate, will develop the situation clearly and show how far the forces friendly to Mr. Taft are in control.

WISCONSIN NEWS

WISCONSIN IS NEW REGISTRATION STATE

DR. CHARLES HARPER IS OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED

MEANS MUCH TO THE STATE

The Mortality and Morbidity Statistics Gathered Will be Published by the Government

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 27.—Dr. Charles A. Harper, secretary of the Wisconsin state board of health, has just received notice from the federal census bureau that Wisconsin has been admitted as a "registration" state. This means that the mortality and morbidity statistics collected under the law passed at the last session of the legislature will be published by the government bureau. S. N. D. North, director of the United States census, in writing to Dr. Harper, says:

"I desire to congratulate you and your board upon its effective service in enabling the state of Wisconsin to be added to the registration area of the United States, which will now for the year 1908 exceed for the first time over one-half of the total population of the country."

Dr. Harper is highly elated over the recognition accorded the Wisconsin department by the federal government. The census bureau already has employed clerks to make transcripts of all certificates received for the year 1908 in Wisconsin. As soon as the transcripts are copied they will be sent to Washington and will be incorporated in the next annual report for the registration area. Uniformity of stating causes of death, as well as other information relative to each decedent, will be tabulated in detail and the relative importance of each disease in each section of the country can be determined.

At the last session of congress, when provisions were made for taking the next federal census, it was determined that no mortality nor morbidity statistics would be collected. Therefore, all states which have not been accepted as registration states will have no statistics of disease for comparison or reference. The economy of the new system is an important factor. Under provision statistical laws of Wisconsin, each certificate cost the state or county 75 cents. The cost under the present system has been reduced to 40 cents, thus resulting in an annual saving to the state and county in fees and to the clerical services of from $35,000 to $40,000. The number of deaths registered has increased from about 17,000 to 18,000 per year under the old system to nearly 28,000 under the new system. Stated somewhat differently, each year from 8,000 to 10,000 people, prior to Oct. 1, 1907, were buried or otherwise disposed of without a certificate of death being filled or other evidence preserved to safeguard the rights of relatives or friends who otherwise might share

HUNTING SEASON CLAIMS MANY LIVES

DEATH LIST IS OVER A SCORE AND THREE DAYS LEFT

23 DEAD AND 53 INJURED

Despite Many Deaths, List Not as Large as Last Year, Forest Fires Saved Many Lives

With but three days left of the open season in Wisconsin the list of deaths as the result of hunting accidents is smaller than that of last year. This year the total number of dead is 23 while last year there were 51 deaths. The injured there were 53 and in 1907 there were 66. The saving of many lives is attributed to the forest fires in the northern woods. These, old hunters claim, burned away the thick underbrush and made the deer territory less thickened, thus reducing the danger. Senator Roehr Better Perhaps the most well known of these injured hunting this year is Senator Julius E. Roehr of Milwaukee. He is reported to be convalescent and his ultimate recovery is expected.

Rain Spoils Hunting
The heavy rains that have fallen in the north for the last few days has melted the last vestige of snow and it is not expected that the hunting will continue at the rapid pace it has.

Game Driven by Fires Complaints are heard on all sides from those who have returned from hunting trips of the scarcity of the game. This is alleged to be due to in the property and other rights and claims of the deceased.

Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician of the federal census bureau, made a complete investigation of the two methods employed by the Wisconsin board of health, upon which he based a favorable report to his department. "It is perhaps true that the registration may not be fully complete in certain countries in the state," writes Mr. North to Dr. Harper, "but you have ample power—and it should be exercised—to compel complete returns if necessary and I have confidence that under your administration the important service of administration will not only be maintained at its present standard, but will be improved until it is practically complete."

the forest fires which have driven the deer from their accustomed haunts into new territory.

The burning away of the underbrush, thus allowing hunters to distinguish men from deer has been of inestimable benefit. Of the entire list of dead but three were taken for deer.

A comparative scale of hunting casualties for the past eight years follows:

	Dead	Injured	Total
1901	17	32	49
1902	10	16	26
1903	14	21	35
1904	16	7	23
1905	17	13	30
1906	7	9	16
1907	51	66	117
1908	23	53	76

Some of the interesting features of the list of accidents can be learned from the following table:

- Shot by companions, 18.
- Shot by unknown hunters, 9.
- Shot by father, 1.
- Killed by brother, 4.
- Killed by own hand, 3.

FREEPORT WILL

MATTER DECIDED AT MEETING IN PRETZEL CITY

LOCALS AFTER SCHOONHOVEN

Deal Is Being Negotiated for the Manager of the Cannery—Bond Won't Be Traded

Freeport will be in the Wisconsin league next year. This was definitely decided at a meeting of the baseball men and fans held in that city last night and practically knocks out all possibility of Racine securing the franchise of that city.

A plan has been decided upon and a campaign will be made among the business men of that city to raise sufficient sums to defray the deficit of the 1908 season and to place a snug amount in the treasury for next season.

La Crosse After Schoonhoven.

According to advices received from Freeport efforts are being made on the part of this city to secure Mah-ager Schoonhoven of the Freeport team to take the place made vacant by the resignation of "Pink" Hawley. The Freeport fans claim that a "shaking up" in that team would be a good thing, and are willing to release Schoonhoven to La Crosse in exchange for Captain Carl Bond.
"There may be some talk of securing Schoonhoven," said President Henry Rooney of the La Crosse club today, "but nothing official. No, I don't think that La Crosse would consider the release of Bond for Schoonhoven. I haven't any doubt but that Freeport will raise enough money to stay in the league next season."

Rockford Wants Scott.

Rockford is after Pitcher Scott and Shortstop Fiske of Freeport, and the management of that team feel that it would be all right to let them go.
Barlow, the first baseman there, while regarded as a first class man, will also be sold to another team.
There is some talk in Freeport of slating George Ives as manager but the matter is in the embryo. Driscoll will continue with Freeport.

MURDER OF FAURE TO BE REVEALED IN WOMAN'S STORY

of M. Faure described yesterday how, after the ceremony at the cemetery, Mme. Steinhell fell on her knees at the grave and took from her bosom a bunch of violets and threw it on the coffin. Then, he said, sobbing, she prostrated herself on the ground, passionately kissing M. Faure's portrait.

Immediately after this, according to the same authority, M. Steinhell, who had been complacent at the friendship existing between Faure and his wife and who had accepted the Legion of Honor at the hands of President Faure, began proceedings for divorce, but through the intervention of his family the suit was withdrawn a fortnight afterwards.
According to gossip compromising papers of some political importance were surrendered, but M. Rochefort has repeatedly charged that others remained in the possession of Stein-hell at the time of his murder.

Liaisons With Other Men.

After Faure's death Mme. Steinhell, who admitted that she detested her husband, formed other alliances, some of them with men of political influence. She confessed yesterday before the authorities that at the time of the murder of her husband and Mme. Japy she had a lover, who is believed to be a rich man.

Killed by Dreyfusites?

The Journal continues by charging that Chief of Detectives Hamard and Magistrate Leydet knew that the arrest of Mme. Steinhell inevitably would lead to the raking up of the scandalous mystery of Faure's death, which with difficulty had been stifled for ten years, and accordingly did their best to hush up the present inquiry. The newspaper concludes by saying that Faure was poisoned because he was opposed to revision in the Dreyfus case.

The place where M. Steinhell and Mme. Japy were killed was in the little Impasse Ronsin, a cutoff street or court, where many artists have their studios. It is in the heart of Paris, yet quiet and secluded, just off the main thoroughfares.

Cord Around Throat.

On Sunday morning, May 31, Artist Steinhell was found dead on the threshold of his bedroom, strangled, it seemed, by a cord round his throat, and his legs and arms were bound. His mouth had been stuffed with cotton.

Mme. Japy lay dead upon her bed, in the next room. She, too, had been bound hand and foot, tied to the bed and strangled. She also had been gagged with cotton.

In the next room her daughter, Mme. Steinhell, lay upon her bed bound, and a cord about her neck, but it had not been tightened. She was uninjured.

Upstairs the artist's valet had slept all night without hearing any outcry or noise that it would seem must have accompanied the death struggle of the two victims.

Nothing in the house had been disturbed, except Mme. Steinhell's desk, which had been opened and some papers and banknotes strewn about. No money had been taken, though the artist's pocketbook contained $1,200.

Mme. Steinhell, excited, hysterical, declared she had been attacked at midnight in her bed by a man, a former model of her husband's, who

How to Overcome Incipient Lung Troubles

Open-air life in the great pine forests has proven one of the most successful ways of curing consumption. The very air of the forests is charged with the chemical elements of the pine, which have a wonderful healing effect on the membranes.

Remarkable results, however, have been obtained in incipient stages of lung trouble by open air living at home and the use of the simple home-made remedy described below. This remedy is a good thing to keep in the home ready for use, for it is, of course, much simpler to treat a cough or cold when it first appears than to let it develop into serious lung or throat trouble. Here is the recipe:

Granulated Sugar Syrup 1 1/2 oz.
Pinex 2 1/2 oz.
Put the 2 1/2 oz. of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle and fill up with the Syrup, made as follows: Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add 1/2 cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment.
Keep the mixture well corked and it will never spoil. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours as required.

Obstinate, deep-seated coughs yield quickly to this simple remedy, usually in 24 hours. It is also splendid for whooping cough, hoarseness and bronchial troubles and similar ailments. The taste is very pleasant.

In making this remedy do not expect the best results by using any of the weaker pine oil or pine tar preparations. Use the real Pinex, full strength, as it is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and is rich in all the natural elements of the pine. If your druggist does not have it in stock he can easily order some for you, if you ask him.

The full pint of this unequalled remedy costs only about 54 cents, and will last a whole family a long time.

gagged and tied her. Then she had heard the villain and his accomplice strangle her mother and her husband.

Says Priests Saw Crime.

The next day Mme. Steinhell made a new statement. There had been four assassins, she said. One was a red haired woman dressed in black.
The other three were men, bearded, middle aged, dressed in long black robes like Russian priests. She had had a long conversation with them, and they spoke French with a foreign accent, like Germans. Then she gave a long list of jewels that had been stolen.

When Inspector Hamard heard of this he said:

"If Mme. Steinhell says that a single one of her jewels was stolen she lies. I saw every one of them in the morning."

He declared it could not have been a vulgar burglary. The case became more mystifying the further it was probed.

Way Is Made Clear.

Mme. Steinhell had sent her daughter away to the country the afternoon before the tragedy. The maid had gone with the girl to the Stein-hell country villa at Bellevue.

age of submitting briefs at any time by the leading members of the committee to these manufacturers are amirably calculated to call out answers asking for the retention of the present rates of duties, or advances in them.

"Do you not believe that your present duties should be maintained?" his is the usual query. Scarcely ever is it put thus: "Do you think your rates should be reduced?" Eastern papers state that under this seductive coaching one manufacturer, who has a duty of 30 per cent now on his product and who acknowledges that he is making a profit on it, asks to have the duty increased to 40 per cent and wants to have the duty taken off the materials which he uses directions. One or two manufactur-

REFUGEE ON CANADA FARM

Scotland Yards Man Has Tracked Assassin to Manitoba Rural District

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 27.—In a few days, possibly hours, the mur-derer of Lady Luard, of England, is expected to be placed under arrest in Manitoba. For three weeks Inspector Jarvis, of Scotland Yards, has been in and about Winnipeg on the hunt. There is a reward of a thousand pounds for the slayer's capture.
He admits he has evidence that the murderer is employed on a farm in western Manitoba. Three months ago the murder of Lady Luard startled Europe. She was last seen alive at The Oakes, where she went walking with her husband. Two hours later she was found shot to death at a summer house on the edge of the grounds. No arrests were made, and suspicion pointed strongly toward Mr. Luard as the guilty party. This, added to his receipt of an anonymous letter, drove him to suicide beneath a train two weeks after his wife's murder.

SCHOOL CHILDREN MAKE MANY HAPPY

"The poor of La Crosse," said Poor Commissioner John Hauser today, "had one of the best Thanksgivings in years. The people donated large amounts of food and to the school children especially is much praise due. Mr. Berry and myself worked until 12 o'clock on Thanksgiving eve delivering food to various families, the main portion of which was contributed by the school children."

Third Ward Generous

The third district school came to the aid of the needy with Thanksgiving dinners in a way that did great good. Among the children of the Third district $30 in cash was raised, all of which was turned over to Professor N. S. Donaldson. A dinner, costing $2, was provided for 15 families, the school promising to take care of that many.

Hogan School Contributes

The Hogan school raised money and food and 20 families were supplied while other districts did equally as well.

There were numerous contributions in the way of cash, food and clothing, the donors in most instances refusing to divulge their names.

"Of course," continued Mr. Hauser, "there were some families who were in need, that we found it impossible to get around to but they were attended to at some future date.
As a whole, however, this Thanksgiving was a great one for La Crosse's poor."

The mournful saint works a good deal more harm than the cheerful sinner.

Chairman Payne Gasp.Taft Is Allright.

"As shown by his speeches and interviews during the campaign, President-elect Taft also interpreted this platform declaration to mean honest revision. It is clear to me, from things which some of his close friends have said about him in the last few days that, in his message to congress at the opening of the extra session, he will insist that the platform promise of honest revision will be carried out in spirit and in letter. It is likewise clear to me that in making this demand, he will have a large majority of the 8,000-000 republican voters of the country with him."

INTERVENTION BY U. S. IS OPPOSED

PRESIDENT OF HAYTI WANTS US TO KEEP "HANDS OFF"

FEARS A NEW CENSORSHIP

Uprising in District of Gonaivos Is Spreading and Execution of Prisoners Is Reported

PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 27.— President Nord Alexis will oppose American intervention in Hayti with every means in his power, fearing that it has even been contemplated in Washington to establish what practically amounts to a censorship of all news from the troubled districts so that apparent tranquility will be indicated.

The president will also direct his agents to do everything possible to influence French sentiment in favor of his "let us alone" policy.

There is no disguising the fact the present government here is facing the worst crisis in its history.
Businessmen are tired paying a tribute continually to officials for the right to carry on their affairs in the ordinary commercial way, and this phase must be met as well as the Simon revolution. Alexis declares his friends at Washington will not sanction intervention. He insists there is no reason for it.

The uprising in the district of Gonaivos, headed by General Firmin, bids fair to spread throughout the entire district lying on the Bay of Gonaivos. It is a decided task to cope with the rebels, as a large percentage of the army is in the field operating against General Simon.
Reports of the summary execution of prisoners by both sides are current here, but are impossible of confirmation.

SUIT POSSIBLE AGAINST BREWERS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 27.—The United States circuit court of appeals sitting in this city has recently rendered a decision substantiating the claims of the German-American Filter company of New York against the Loew Filter company and other companies that nearly every filter in breweries throughout the country are infringements on the Stockholm patent.

Of the five La Crosse breweries three are at present using the Loew filter and, according to the decision, are liable for infringement on the Stockholm patent. The three companies using the Loew are the Heileman Brewing company, the Eagle and the Monitor.

The process involved in this suit, it is said, is necessarily used in every beer filter, and it would therefore follow under the decision, that brewers in all parts of the United States are liable in damages to the owner of the patent for any infringing use.
Considering the fact that practically every brewer in the country uses one or more filters in infringement, as claimed, of the Stockholm patent, the aggregate amount directly and indirectly involved in this suit is very large; it has been estimated as high as several millions of dollars.

LANG CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE

Alderman ang was appointed chairman of the special light committee at the meeting Wednesday evening. Alderman Rose, chairman of the light committee and acting chairman of the special light committee, resigned. Mr. Lang will direct the work that has been begun. The plans are to have the plant completed in about 18 months, when the city's present contract expires. The plant would cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 and furnish all the light used by the city.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT
S.S.S. RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation—a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sus-tain our bodies. Uric acid, an irritating, inflammatory accumulation, gets into the circulation because of physical irregularities, and then instead of nourishing and invigorating the body, the blood irritates and inflames the different nerves, tissues, muscles and joints, because of its impure, acid condition. The pains and aches and other disagreeable and dangerous symptoms of Rheumatism can never be permanently cured until every particle of the cause is driven from the blood. S. S. S. does this because it is a perfect blood purifier. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, purifies and cleanses the circulation, invigorates the blood, and completely drives Rheumatism from the system. Plasters, liniments, soothing lotions, etc., may be used for the temporary relief and comfort they bring, but a cure cannot be effected until S. S. S. has removed the cause. It frees the blood of every impurity and makes it a rich, health sustaining fluid, to bring permanent relief and comfort to those who suffer with Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

INVESTIGATION EXCITING.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 27.—The government investigation of the cause of 14 deaths as the result of an explosion is reaching an exciting stage. The coroner's inquest again adjourned after the oil company agents failed to shed light on the mystery. Daily papers are demanding that the government offer a huge reward, employ outside detectives, seize oil plants and the oil through the west in hope of solving the mystery. Oil consumption, the company claims, has fallen off forty per cent in the province since the explosion. Many big houses absolutely refuse to handle oil.

CARNEGIE WOULD TAX STOCK WINNINGS

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Community makes wealth, and wealth should be divided with those forming the community, is the keynote of an article by Andrew Carnegie to be printed in the December number of the "World of Work." He says none of the professions have money making for an aim. This is right, for beyond a competence for old age wealth decreases rather than increase human happiness. Stock gambling gains, he says, should be levied on by the state at the highest rate.

FOR CONSUMPTIVES

This formula is said to be the most effective known to science for the treatment of consumption and all forms of throat and lung trouble.

Mix two ounces of glycerine with eight ounces of good whiskey and add one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound. Take a teaspoonful or a tablespoonful every four hours.

The experiments in the pine forests of Maine have demonstrated that pine has no equal in its action on the mucous membrane. It strengthens and heals the lungs and bronchial tubes and when used in the above formula rebuilds the whole system, relieving coughing after the first few doses. Any druggist can supply these ingredients.

See that you get only the real "Concentrated" pine compound. It is plainly labeled and comes only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in a round wood case, which is airtight and keeps the fluid in its full strength.

MR. MAHONEY MAKES DISCOVERY AS ACTING SECRETARY

NOW IS CLEAR OF DEBT

Mr. Mahoney Says Obligations Incurred by Other Secretaries Have Been Wiped Away Now

The directors of the board of trade will hold a meeting Monday night in order to talk over matters that will probably be brought up at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

P. W. Mahoney acting secretary of the board, said in regard to the policy of the board of trade: "We have been doing practically nothing for the past year in order that the board could get into a sound financial condition. Now we have cleared the indebtedness, that had been brought upon the board by the former secretaries, and we will be in a position to go ahead with the business. This will not be as easy as it seems, for the entire correspondence of the past year amounts to practically nothing."

"For the last three years the board of trade has done nothing as far as I can see that amounts to anything in the way of booming the city of La Crosse. The meeting Monday will be for the purpose of going into the matter and discussing the situation."

Very probably the directors will make plans for the future, at the coming meeting and a campaign will be outlined for next year.

STEVENS POINT HIT BY BAD TORNADO

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Nov. 27.—A cyclone which passed through the river district of this city killed one man, made twenty families homeless, partially wrecked the plants of the Polish Brewing company, the Croy Furniture Manufacturing company, and the Joerns Manufacturing company, unroofed more than twenty-five houses, leveled almost two score of barns, and caused damage estimated at $150,000. While the storm lasted barely a few minutes it left behind it a trail of wreckage that it will take months to clear away.

La France Shoe for Women

There is a La France shoe at this store that will fit your foot—perfect. It means something in La France shoes that the wearers of other shoes do not clearly comprehend. It means more than a shoe that fits fairly comfortably and looks well. It means a glove-like adaptability to the shape, lines and curves of the foot—a fit that is close without being uncomfortable. The picture at the bottom illustrates one particular kind of La France shoe that may interest you. It is the remarkable Flexible Welt, the most elastic and comfortable shoe model ever offered by this or any other shoe store. This flexibility does not detract from the wearing qualities of the shoe, but it does make it the most easy of all shoes, particularly when the wearer is standing or walking.

KETCHEL REGAINS LOST CHAMPIONSHIP

PUTS PAPKE OUT IN THE ELEVENTH ROUND

CHAMPION IS OUTCLASSED

Illinois Man Showed None of His Thunderbolt Attributes in Thanks-giving Fray at Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. Nov. 27.—According to the rules of the prize ring, Stanley Ketchel will receive credit for knocking out Billy Papke in the eleventh round of their fight yesterday at Coffroth's arena. Papke, however, was merely knocked out of time and might have continued a little longer if he had so desired, or had not become confused in regard to the counting.

He had been sent to the floor twice and on the second occasion he rested on one hand and one knee and looked up at Referee Welsh in a half dazed way. He was stung to the quick by the fierce smashes he had received from the Michigan wonder, but it certainly looked as if his intelligence was intact enough to impress him with the fact that the seconds were being tolled off in a loud voiced way by the veteran timekeeper, George Harting.

Welsh was merely keeping time with his hand to Harting's shouting.

Was Papke Yellow?
"Eight, nine ten," and then eleven," yelled Harting, throwing in an extra second for good measure, but still the Illinois thunderbolt knelt and gazed at Welsh in a dreamy manner.

Ketchel was standing close by and Welsh gave him a slap on the shoulder saying at the same time, "You win," then Papke of Illinois arose and looked at Welsh reproachfully, as though to say, "How could you do it?"

Just what influenced Papke to remain down is best known to himself, for it is possible that the conductors on the street cars whizzing along the avenue heard Harting continue. He certainly made full use of his lungs and tongue.

Not a Thunderbolt.
Those who saw the fight came away wondering how on earth Papke did up Ketchel so completely at Los Angeles. The Illinois man certainly showed none of his thunderbolt attributes at any stage of the proceedings. The best that can be said for him on yesterday's showing is that he possesses a fair degree of the endurance that has made Battling Nelson famous. He can stand a lot of battering, but scarcely with the same fortitude as the Dane. He was plainly discouraged several times during the fight.

The only round in which Papke flattered the hopes of his backers for a few brief seconds was in the ninth. Ketchel had been crowding his opponent from corner to corner and bending him across the ropes, the while smashing in fierce body punches with both gloves. At one point Ketchel was leaning on his opponent at the confines of the ring and digging the left into the mid-section. Papke, by a quick twitch, pulled clear and jumped to mid-ring. He threw himself into fighting position and as Ketchel went at him let go a curving right hander to the face. It caught Ketchel on the bridge of the nose and was certainly the hardest punch the Michigan fighter received up to that time. The blood spread fan-shaped over Ketchel's lips and chin and glistened in the sun.

Hardly Feared Ketchel.

Papke's friends began chortling. It looked like the blow with which Papke had blinded Ketchel at Los Angeles and may be it would have had an equally dire effect if it had taken the Michigan fighter an inch or so higher.

But though Ketchel bled, he was neither dazed nor daunted. He tore at the thunderbolt, flinging the red drops from his face as he went, and he let go a wicked right hander for the head. The blow was almost spent before it reached Papke's jaw, but at that it was hard enough to turn the thunderbolt to the right about. Papke, while making an effort to get out of range of another such clout, tripped and fell. When he arose Ketchel pressed in on him and hammered him with both gloves and at no time after that did Papke display a glimmer of winning form.

They opened the eleventh round with a clinch and just as soon as Welsh could part them they went into another. Papke being the man who courted these bugging matches. Each of them made a brave attempt to find use for a free arm while swaying about, and from the way they fumbled it could be gauged that neither man was very strong.

Puts Papke Down.

Ketchel, who was always the busier, got to work the sooner after the break and pried Papke onto the ropes with a stiff body punch. Papke held for dear life and then swung around and tried to make his escape. As he was backing away Ketchel shuffled his feet and let fly a full range blow with his feet—a kind of half shift. It took Papke on the extreme point of his chin, landing with a clicking sound and the Illinois thunderbolt went backward to the floor, his head bumping against the padding. He lay there for a few seconds with his head raised and the look of a loser in his eyes.

Papke struggled to rise and reached the position where he rested on his knees. This was the first time

TENEYCK NABBED FOR A LARCENY

OARSMAN OF SYRACUSE AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Chicago Police Cause Arrest of Famous Oarsman on Grand Jury Indictment

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 27.—James Ten Eyck, Jr., of the Syracuse varsity crew is under arrest here for an alleged larceny in Chicago. According to the advices from Chicago, Ten Eyck has been indicted by a Chicago grand jury which makes the affair more serious than his previous trouble, which was settled by his friends.

The arrest follows the receipt of the following letter from P. D. O'Brien, captain of the Chicago detectives:

"Chief of Police M. F. L. Cadin, Syracuse, N. Y.—I hold indictment for James Ten Eyck on the charge of stealing $1,350 from Christ Hansen of this city by means of a lemon pool game. He is said to be well known in your city, where he attends Syracuse university. He is a brother of Ned Ten Eyck, the famous oarsman and is the son of Jim Ten Eyck. Kindly cause a search to be made for him, and if located arrest and wire me and arrangements will be made for his extradition."

Ten Eyck was arrested at the university just before noon and before he left the grounds he sent a message to his attorney, D. Raymond Cobb, who arrived at the police station before the officers and their prisoner. Ten Eyck expressed the greatest surprise at the arrest and said that he could not understand it, while his attorney was loath to be interviewed, as he said that he had not yet had time to learn any of the particulars of the alleged larceny.

USE MURDERERS FOR TESTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 27.—

The board of prison directors is in receipt of a letter from Dr. W. A. Briggs, vice president of the board of health, suggesting that condemned murderers at the penitentiary be used in making tests for the determination of the origin of tuberculosis infection in human beings. The directors decided to make the suggestion public and allow public opinion to guide them. The condemned men must be willing before such experiments could be made.

that Ketchel appeared rattled and it looked for a second as if he would swing the right on the kneeling man's cheek. Welsh pushed him away and Papke stayed down as long as the law allowed. It is said, indeed, that according to lapse of time, he was really "out," but in the turmoil and confusion he got to his feet and the fight went on.

All Over With Thunderbolt.

Papke was past the danger point now, that is, so far as the chance of winning went. He hacked away with his forearms wrapped around his head and his body bent nearly double, Ketchel helping him toward the ropes with as varied an assortment of punches as was ever inflicted by a man in a prize ring. The bare tips of Papke's ears afforded a target and these were well warmed. Up-ercuts, which took Papke both in the chest and on the elbows, were served out in bewildering succession and once or twice the Michigan bruiser came down on poor Papke's back like a blacksmith on an anvil.

One, savage hook caught Papke in the stomach while he was pinioned against the ropes and then his guard dropped. He reeled toward the center and his unprotected head tossed from side to side under a fusillade of smashes. One of these punches, and it would be hard to tell whether it was with a left or a right, sent him to the floor again. He gathered himself together as well as he could, but it was all over.

ANNA GOULD WAS A NAUGHTY WOMAN

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Following the announcement in the case of Count Boni yesterday that M. Bonnet, counsel for Castellane, would prove that De Sagan was a rouse before his marriage and that his immoral, degenerate and illegal habits had not been given up since; and that the princess had been behaving improperly while the wife of Castellane, after the divorce and at least right up to the time of her marriage to the prince, as a basis for the claim that the moral atmosphere of the prince's establishment is unfit for the three children, M. Clemenceau, attorney for the princess declared that he would retaliate and show that De Sagan is to Castellane as "the stars of heaven are to the ashes of hell," as far as morality is concerned.

All of which is highly edifying to French gentlemen and French ladies who crowded the courtroom to hear the trial.

In his address to the court M. Mon Bonnet said that prior to their marriage Mme. Gould and Prince Helle had met secretly at St. Cloud, where a villa was rented for $800 for the purpose, and stayed there a week. Later, he said they had occupied rooms on the same corridor

ITALIAN FIAT CAR SMASHES RECORDS

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 27.—All American automobile records were smashed to atoms yesterday when Louis Wagner, in an Italian fiat car won the $5,000 gold cup offered by the Automobile Club of America and incidentally captured the grand prize race representing the international championship of the Automobile Club of America.

The winner covered the 402 mile course in 370 minutes 31 seconds, or at the astonishing rate of 65.1 miles an hour, or nearly a mile an hour faster than the 64.3 miles record made by George Robertson in a Locomobile car in the underbilt cup race this year.

Victor Hermery, in a German Benz car, was second, 56 seconds behind the winner, covering the course in 371 minutes 27 seconds, or at the rate of 64.9 miles an hour. No American cars finished.

FREDDIE WELCH WINS FROM ABE ATTELL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 27.—Freddie Welch, the lightweight champion of England, won a fifteen round decision over Abe Attehl, the featherweight champion, here Wednesday night. It was one of the greatest exhibitions of cleverness ever seen in the west, but little damage was done on either side. Attehl more than met his match in speed and cleverness, and was forced to hang on repeatedly to avoid punishment. Several times he was warned by the referee for hitting low, and was often hooted by the crowd. The men fought under difficulties, as the heavy rain dripped through the roof and made the canvas so slippery that both men had trouble keeping their feet.

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments and carefully adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish—often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

ROBBERS SECURE $150 PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 27.—At an early hour the Hughes County bank at Blunt, owned by Waite Brothers, was robbed of $150. All the money in the vault was outside the safe and that inside protected by a time lock. Four men called Cashier R. C. Creeper to his door and compelled him to go to the bank and open the vault. Two suspects, giving the names of Frank Lily and Frank Gorman, were locked up, and two others are under arrest at Huron.		"GIPP'S" RESPECTS TO HERMAN T. EKERMAN Editor Bert Gipple of the Galeville Republican has a Thanksgiving suggestion for his dear friend, Herman T. Ekern. Under the heading, "Can Afford to Be Generous," "Gipp" says: "When the gentlemen who asked Editor Hess to pay him $10,000 for alleged libel gets the money, what will he do with it? Between now and next March he will have ample time to plan the disposition of the funds, and The Republican offers the following suggestions without charge: "He might present Joe Beach a copy of Shakespeare on asbestos paper, bound in morocco or sole leather. "A seal skin coat and a plumed hat to Frank George. "An official robe of sable or royal purple to Judge Cowie. "A perfecting press and a gold mounted shooting stick to The Republican; a 10-year subscription to The S. Indian and a new office at The Osage Recorder. The Trempealeau Herald would probably be satisfied with a few diamond stick pins and a directors gown from Paree. The cup of joy in the office of the Blair Press is so full that it wouldn't expect anything. "John C. Gaveney might be given a new blacklist tag. The one he wears is badly frayed at the edges. Or a certificate of political character could be issued to Jawn in place of the tag. "An automobile and a gold thermometer to Dr. Hendershield. "A liberal pension to each of his supporters in the town of Dodge. About twenty kopeks each. "Bronze statues or drinking fountains to Whitehall and Pigeon for handsome majorities. "A bust of Jefferson to the Democratic county committee. "This would use up most of the coin but with economy enough would remain for sample souvenirs for Arthur Holmes, 'Bill' Bright, 'Hank' Fields, 'Bill' Sterling, John Dick, Lars P. Larson, Mark Hewitt, Frank Bender, N. E. Berseng, Alfred Gligard and a few other busybodies. "After the above distribution, a glad hand and congratulations might be extended to A. T. Twesme, and then everybody would be happy."
GRAY WOLVES ARE DESTROYING SHEEP BELLE FOURCHE, S. D., Nov. 27.—Not for many years have the sheep and cattlemen of this section been the victims of such extensive mau- rauding of gray wolves. Reports from the ranges north and west of here continue to tell of heavy losses by the ravings of the wolves. In less than a week a ranch north of here lost fifty head of sheep, while others have lost nearly as heavily. As a result of the depredation of the animals, James T. Craig of the VVV ranch has shipped into the country seven large Siberian wolf hounds. He has issued a general invitation to ranchers and owners of stock to participate in a big wolf drive and roundup, when it is hoped to kill off many of the ravaging beasts. Don't boast your helplessness to others unless you want to be regarded as self-satisfied. After getting the best of a man in one deal, steer clear of him, for he will begin to sit up and take notice. $3,000 WILL FIX UP IDEAL BATHS

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS IS PLANNING IMPROVEMENT

WOULD DREDGE OUT LAGOON

House Will Be Moved to Position Parallel with Road; Water Near Concrete Bridge to be Used

The board of public works is making plans for a new location for the public baths next year. The plan at present is to turn the bath house around until it is parallel with the road and a little farther inland. Then the place below the concrete bridge will be dredged out and the sand thrown upon the banks, making an ideal bathing beach. A small outlet is to be made to the Mississippi and another into West channel, thus assuring a continual supply of fresh water. This work will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 according to Arthur Roberge, member of the board who has charge of the baths.

"At present the council is appropriating $500 a year for the maintenance for the North Side and $500 for the south side baths. If the council will appropriate enough so that we can do the work outlined I think that the bath can be made a paying institution. Last year with the high water delaying us we took in $680 during the months of July, August and September. Now," said Mr. Roberge, "with the baths inland there will be no trouble with high water and the season will be greatly lengthened. I figure that we will have a much larger patronage according to the new plans, as nearly all the danger will be eliminated. At present, a great many people who want to get into the deeper water have to go out into the current which is very dangerous. With the baths inland the bathers could have as deep water as they wanted and there would be no current. The beach would be greatly improved and there would be accommodations for a much larger crowd."

It is probable that the matter will be brought up before the council in the near future as it will be necessary to start the work as soon as the ice goes out in order to have things ready by summer.

AGRICULTURE MEET JANUARY 12-14TH

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 27.—Because annual conventions of other agriculture and livestock associations are held early in February, and also because long-course agriculture students are then busy with their semester examinations, Frederick Crane, field secretary of the Wisconsin Horticultural society, has announced that the organization this year will hold its convention in Madison on January 12 to 14. For the past 25 years the meeting has been held in February.

An attendance of 150 already has been assured, and arrangements are being made to send delegates to the conventions of Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan. A half day of the convention will be devoted to small fruit growing, with E. E. Banning, an extensive grower of currants and gooseberries in Milwaukee, as principal speaker. Among others on the program are W. C. Green of Ohio, who recently published his experience of ten years with apple orchards; George Tippin, who will speak on co-operative marketing of fruits, and Prof. J. W. Livingston of Plattville normal school, who will talk on beautifying school grounds. As usual, the sessions will be held in Guild hall.

SOLDIERS' WIVES WANT THE WASHING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The wives of private soldiers in the Seventieth artillery filed objection to the presence of Chinese laundrymen in the army post, and declared they will carry their opposition to the department at Washington. The women claim the Chinamen deprive them of work which formerly aided in their support.

COLORED TENTS HEALTHFUL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—The quartermaster's department of the army will soon make a report to the general staff on the efficiency of the blue hospital tent, as determined by experiments in progress in Cuba. It will be part of an elaborate scheme of color in the army, seeking to protect the officers and men from the mysterious evil influence of elusive actinic rays.
